

Nadine J. Newcomb

December 31, 1913 — January 27, 2007

Banquet

*Men talk of "Present" like a bowl in hand Containing all the dainties for a meal.
 'Tis but the middle course of life's great feast,
 The Past has gone before, the Future still Must come and tho they separate seem, they Yet will meet within the confines of a soul
 And there exist together not as three,
 But as a whole whose parts are seen no more.*

~Nadine J. Newcomb

Nadine & Family
 ~her 90th birthday

(l. to r. standing)

- Torrey Newcomb,
- Steven Newcomb,
- Vicky Newcomb, Bobby Newcomb, John Newcomb,
- Billy Newcomb, Kylea Taylor, Jim Schofield,
- Victor Bongard.

(l. to r.. seated)

- Chris Newcomb, Peter Newcomb, Isaac Newcomb,
- Nadine J. Newcomb, Jennifer Newcomb, Elisabeth Newcomb, Mary Kay Duffié,
- Will Bongard, Victoria Bongard, Taylor Albright,
- Griffin Bongard.

daughter.wife.
mother.grandmother.
mother-in-law.
great-grandmother.
friend.student.librarian.
Presbyterian elder.lawyer.
public servant.teacher.reader.
correspondent.poet.painter.
music-lover.storyteller.
activist.builder.philanthropist.
tennis player.traveler.
folk dancer.gardener.
singer of folk songs.
humorist.columnist.
knitter.crocheter.needlepointer.
embroiderer.photographer.
cook.hostess.public speaker.
editor.colleague.tutor.
player of guitar.seamstress.
film-lover.author.
ancestor.

Ruth Nadine Jones and Robert Earl Newcomb, Jr.
on their wedding day, February 14, 1942
in Glassboro, New Jersey